RECENT ARRESTS BY POLICE

On Friday, February 16, 2007 at 1:15 a.m., Franconia Township police officers stopped a green Chevrolet Cavalier in the area of Harleysville Pike and School House Road for a moving violation.

Police identified the driver of the Chevrolet as Ian Kelly, 24, of the 3000 block of Watermill Drive, Macungie, Pennsylvania. As police were speaking with the driver, they detected a strong odor of alcohol coming from him. After an investigation, Kelly was arrested for Driving Under the Influence of Alcohol.

Kelly was taken to the DUI Fast Track Center at the Towamencin Township Police Department and was later released.

On Monday, February 19, 2007 at 11:30 p.m., Franconia Township police officers stopped a white Ford Taurus for a moving violation in the area of Harleysville Pike and Meeting House Road in Franconia Township.

Police identified the driver of the Ford as David Barry, 46, of the 100 block of Abbey Lane, Telford. As police were speaking with the driver, officers identified a strong odor of alcohol on his person. After an investigation, Barry was arrested for Driving Under the Influence of Alcohol.

He was also taken to the Towamencin processing center and released.

Just after midnight on Tuesday, February 20, 2007, Franconia Township police officers stopped a black Mazda Protégé in the area of Melvin Road and Church Road in Franconia Township for a moving violation.

Police identified the driver of the Mazda as Nicole Demarco, 19, of the 800 block of Winnefield Drive, Souderton. After an investigation by police officers, Demarco was cited for disorderly conduct and then was taken into police custody for an active warrant from Bucks County.

Demarco was later turned over to Bucks County Sheriff's Department.
