TWO MEN CHARGED IN CHECK COUNTERFEITING SCHEME

The Franconia Township Police Department has charged two men who cashed counterfeit payroll checks on Thursday, December 17, 2009.

Police were called to the Uninvest Bank at Harleysville Pike and Allentown Road at 2:05 p.m. after a group of up to ten men entered the bank at various intervals to cash payroll checks that appeared to have been issued by a local business. Bank personnel became suspicious of the unusual amount of checks being submitted and by the print quality of the checks.

When a bank employee received verification from the business that they had not issued the checks, the men immediately left the bank. They left in several vehicles that were waiting in parking lots across Allentown Road. An alert citizen, who noticed that the occupants of one vehicle were acting suspiciously, recorded the license plate number and provided it to police when they arrived.

Within minutes of hearing the police radio broadcast of the vehicle description, a Souderton police officer stopped that vehicle on Main Street in the borough. Francisco Beccero, 24, of Wallingford, Pennsylvania and Franco Galindo, 29, of New Haven, Connecticut were taken into custody. Franconia Township Police charged both men with numerous counts of Forgery and Theft by Deception. They are being held at the Montgomery County Correctional Facility in lieu of $10,000 bail each.

Officers from Franconia, Souderton, Telford and Hatfield Township participated in a search for the other suspects and their vehicles but they were not located.
